What does the CEC stand for? CEC is short for the CAREER EDUCATION CENTER, also known as the FRED N. THOMAS CAREER EDUCATION CENTER. CEC has been a part of Denver Public Schools since its opening in 1976. It has always offered in-depth career exploration to high school students from both DPS and non-DPS high schools.

How does the CEC Middle College work? Enrollment in CEC Middle College of Denver creates a smooth transition from high school to college. Freshmen and sophomores spend half a day in academics and half a day in career class. As juniors and seniors, students take their academic classes on the CCD campus. If they qualify, they can take up to four college classes per year, allowing them the opportunity to earn up to a year's worth of college credit toward their college degree by the end of senior year.

Who can enroll in the CEC Middle College? Full-time enrollment is by application and interview only. Any high school student in the metro Denver area can apply. Students are encouraged to attend our open house on November 9, 2011, 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., prior to applying. Call 720-423-6600 for more information.

How much does the CEC Middle College cost? CEC is tuition-free to students in the DPS service area and to all other students who enroll prior to October 1 each school year.

Can full-time CEC Middle College students join high school sports teams or clubs? Students can participate in athletic and other extracurricular activities at their home high schools, as well as join Middle College clubs.

What about transportation to CEC Middle College and CCD? Students who live outside a 3½ mile radius may qualify for an RTD pass.

What career courses are offered at CEC? CEC offers 20 career-oriented classes taught by industry-trained professionals. Many courses offer internships. Please see the brochure.
